Hints to Young Lady Riders. Frank Les'ie's Lady's Journal.

If a young lady be possessed of good nerve, teach her to ride, by all means, but not otherwise, as it is flying in the face of Providence; but do not allow her for a moment to imagine that in the curb bit, the pommel and the stirrups there is

Let her learn to sit square upon the saddle, with a light hand upon the rein-the lighter her hand the less her horse will pull, and vice versa, as using force against force she has no chance; and let one of her first lessons be to ride without stirrup, so that at any time she may be independent of it, and never so ride upon it that her foot driven home, cannot be extricated in a moment.

The habit should not be so long as to impede her movements-just long enough to cover her foot. Then, in case of a fall she may escape unhurt.

It may safely be conceded that at least one-half of the accidents of in the United States. ladies occur in consequence of cowardice or nervousness, or what-ever it may be called, which simply amounts to a want of nerve to act with determination at the sudden appearance of an unlooked for dan-

Every day adds to the high appreciation of this wonderful material for various farm uses. Dry lumber coated with it becomes almost imperishable, but its most remarkable effects are upon green lumber. The increased value of wood seasoned in a sheltered place or coated with oil, has long been known. Timber for places requiring the greatest strength and durability is prepared in this way. Every one knows the worthless character of poplar dried in the open air; but poplar seasoned under shelter is a valuable wood. The effect of coal tar is better than housing and many coats of oil; it excludes air and water, and the wood becomes like iron. Its remarkable preservative properties and its extreme cheapness are in favor. One barrel, costing two or three dollars, will coat the posts for more than one mile of fence, or would cover nearly all the out buildings on a common farm.

More About the Pragedy-Testimony of John C. Spragu at the Inquest.

Verdiet of the Jury

James T. Ward, the young man who shot and killed Dr. R. W. Show at Blue Mound, Friday evening last, is still in the county jail. He was visited Saturday by Mound and vicinity, and others called upon him to-day. The funeral of Dr. Shaw took place at the Mound on Sunday. Robert Ward, the father of the priso ner, was in Decatur on Saturday after noon, and left for his home on Sunday morning. While here he engaged counsel for the defense of his son. AN INQUEST ON SUND AY. On Friday evening Justice S. Miller

Attorney Johns, Coroner Dinneen summoned a jury and had the matter reinves tigated on Sunday. Below is the testimony of Eugene T. Shaw, son of the deceased, who is the Wabash operator and station agent at

Blue Mound:

"Father and I were contine across the street; just as we got opposite the door, I started on south of the store, and father went in at the door. I heard, in a very short space of time, the report of a pistol, and in five or ten seconds another report. I saw Ward run around the east end of the north counter and shoot any father over the counter. Father fell on the their, crying out: "He has broke my ker." I then ran into the store, meeting Ward in the door with a revolver in his right hand; he pointed it at me as he caught sight of no. I stepped aside and he went past. I ran nearly half way across the street and cried out nurder, and said for some one to go and got a do stor, jutick. I then ran back into the store up to where br. Shaw was lying on the floor. E. T. Shaw was making up a bundle of a coat or something to put under his father's head. I asked him what we could do, and he said to get something to lay him on. I got one of the window shutters, and found it was too short. In a few seconds they came in with a lounge. I helped with others to lay the doctor on the lounge, where he soon ided. I saw Tobe Ward shoot Dr. Shaw. I am satisfied that it was from the effect of that shot that Dr. Shaw died. I think that they were light it in the property of the control of the that time.

THE VERDICT.

R. TOBEY.
JOHN W. K. McCLUN,
D. N. McCLUSKFY,
J. K. NIJES,
JOHN B. HOWEN.

It is understood that Crea & Ewing and A. Buckinglem, with A. G. Harris, have been engaged to defend Ward, and State's Attorney Johns will be assisted by attorneys whom the Sloaws may cogage. It is claimed by Ward's friends that the prisoner has a good defense.-They claim that Ward will have no difflculty in proving to the satisfaction of any court or jury that he (Waro) fired in selfdefense; and that the fact will be established that Dr. Shaw came to Blue Mound from Macon on Friday for the purpose of killing Ward on sight.

THE INFORMAL INCUES:

Miller at the informal inquest held Friday night was brought to Decatur, see the Prescott company in that town and this morning Sheriff Foster handed to night, it will be a great surprise to De- it to Clerk McClellan. It is now scaled catur people. The troupe was financially up and not accessible to any one except paralyzed at Eurlington, Iowa, last the proper officer. At the informal inquest

The counsel for Ward will insist on having a preliminary bearing for then client at the earliest possible day, and if it is not granted him within a reasonable time they will endeavor to secure his release under a writ of hubeas corous.

The Greatest Barelty of the Age. This title may be justly given to Sadwah, the East Indian Princess, who appears with Anthony, Eilis & Hathaway's Majestic Consolidated Aggregation. The worship of fire is one of the most ancient forms of religious belief, and is still retained in some parts of the East, where the priests and priestesses of the sacred rites are held in great honor. Badwah appears in her remarkable songs in her own language, and in dances and specialties weird and fascinating beyond description. This monster aggregation comprises four great shows-Ravel's Newly Hatched Humpty Dumpty Company, Mico's Double Specialty Novelty Company, the Parker Boss International Dog School and Gray & Manning's Musical Congress, the whole forming the grandest constellation of artists in this country. Crowded
